

DEPARTMENT OF MANAGEMENT NAMED AFTER PROFESSOR L.I. MYKHAILOVA

Management of Economic Sectors

Candidate of Economic Sciences, Associate Professor of the Department of Management named after
Professor L.I. Mikhailova

Kharchenko Tetyana Mykolaivna

PURPOSE OF THE DISCIPLINE:

- acquisition of theoretical and practical knowledge,
- developing professional competencies in managing entities and objects in economic sectors

OBJECTIVES OF THE DISCIPLINE:

- in-depth study of modern management approaches;
- acquiring knowledge on: planning; organising, motivating and controlling management activities depending on the specifics of the industry;
- acquiring knowledge on responsible management within the framework of sustainability, green economy and wellbeing economy concepts.
- familiarisation with the technology of providing consulting services, management of own knowledge products.

After completing the course, you will find answers to the following questions:

Features of management in the field of economics

Forms of modern management concepts

Opportunities and risks of responsible management

What are the new trends in management?

Secrets of successful management

Course content:

Topic 1. The essence, role and methodological foundations of management in the industry.

Topic 2. Features of basic and special management functions.

Topic 3. Management in the construction industry.

Topic 4. Management in the financial sector.

Topic 5. Management in entrepreneurship, trade and stock exchange activities.

Topic 6. Management in the education sector.

Topic 7. Management of consulting activities.

Topic 8. Management in agriculture.

Topic 9. Management in the veterinary sector.

Topic 10. Management in information technology.

Topic 11. Management of the energy sector.

Topic 12. Management of the industrial sector.